L.V. Harkness & Co. Welcomes Sandra Jordan's "CALIFORNIA CHIC"

Fall has finally arrived in the Bluegrass. Following a hot dry summer, and with the beginning of Autumn, L.V. Harkness is fortunate to be hosting Sandra Jordan, of Jordan Vineyard Estates and the Sandra Jordan Collection once again on October 11th and 12th. The new addition to Mrs. Jordan's fabulous home collection are beautiful serving pieces for the table made of both horn and silver plate which exude the warmth and easy going hospitality of wine country living. Her elegantly understated collection of utensils, cups and vases elevate any occasion and are much coveted gifts.

The most intriguing of Mrs. Jordan's collection is her array of utensils.

There are specific forks for escargots, tomatoes, olives, and bread as well as special spoons for stilton cheese and caviar. Her famed

The Life of Riley

I'm so-o-o-o-o excited! "Trillium" our new store next door is about to open and I'm certain every dog in town will soon be bringing his owners to visit. I've seen some of the inventory that will be available for pets and I can promise they are in for an awesome experience. We'll have items to please a Miniature Terrier all the way to a Great Dane. The cashmere dog sweaters (see photo) are my favorite. I feel like I'm in the first row at the Chanel show just wearing one!

Ok... you've heard it here first, fresh off the presses. There will be a mascot at "Trillium." I know what you're thinking one dog is enough. I'll give you a clue about the other guy. He's Hermes orange and lives in a glass bowl. His name is Romeo and I'm just glad I don't have to share my digs or toys with him.

I hope you all had a good summer in spite of the oppressive heat. Thank goodness the "dog days" of August (why do they call them that?) are behind us. I drank enough water that month to float the QEII and I'm a little guy. But I'm three now, which I think equates to 21 in human terms, so I'm eligible to drink something other than water (note to self ...invent draft beer for dogs.)

I'm also looking forward to Scott and Robin Morris coming here for their annual lamps and shades preview in late October. When I lie around the shop in my favorite chairs my surroundings are much improved thanks to Scott and Robin's gorgeous lamps and shades. I think I'll ask them to make a custom mini-shade for the great "Squirrel Bone" lamp in my dog room at home.

Did you see where the readers of Ace Weekly voted Belle Maison Antiques and Greentree Antiques as the two best antique shops in Lexington. Those readers must have really good taste. I got a tip from an anonymous dog whose owner likes to talk. I prepped for the trophy presentation for a week, only to find out there's no trophy. But I need to visit Wende and Marcia about a Carlisle doggy outfit for the awards dinner before they get backed up with Keeneland and Breeders' Cup fashionistas.

As you can tell, we're all pumped up around here in anticipation of the grand opening of the Greentree Close addition. I can't wait to see what Meg will be offering in her new space at L. V. Harkness. No doubt it will knock my cashmere booties off because everything that store does is done with flair. I am still praying that Herend comes out with a King Charles Spaniel replication of me. What a fabulous Christmas or Hannukah present! I hear through the Close vine that a certain high-powered Cavalier owner has been writing Herend personally...I only hope she can pull some strings.

Romeo and I can't wait to see you all this fall for lots of Holiday Shopping fluted silver pitchers and traditional decanting devices have long been favorites, and her celebration cup floating with flowers is exquisite.

Your friend,

We are truly thrilled to have Mrs. Jordan visiting with us again. Her "California Chic" style has become one of our favorites, and a welcome addition to our more formal Southern style of entertaining. We always learn from her...she is a true visionary in the field of home and tabletop décor. For more information on her visit, please call Mindy Mobley at 225-7474. ☺

TRILLIUM OPENING

Debbie and Tony Chamblin are preparing to open a new store, "Trillium," adjacent to their antique shop, Belle Maison. Trillium will be a Lifestyle store featuring fine accessories and home décor.

The store's focus will be to offer customers unique, well-designed, quality items to enhance their lifestyle. The choices will include distinctive accessories for the home ranging from a fabulous fragrant candle to an original piece of artwork and to personal items ranging from stylish key chains to chic t-shirts.

"We have found current and sophisticated styles new to our market in a vast array of products which encompass furniture, art, photo frames, pillows, throws, candles, lotions, handbags, reading glasses, umbrellas, stationary and much more," Debbie said.

"In addition, we will have a wonderful jewelry counter filled with one-of-a-kind pieces designed by jewelry artists from across the country."

"And for our four-legged family members, we have found a variety of handsome collars and leashes, beds, bowls and feeders, jackets and sweaters."

Trillium will provide fine customer services, including distinctive gift wrapping, shipping and complimentary local delivery.

LAMPS AND SHADES TRUNK SHOW AT BELLE MAISON ANTIQUES

BELLE MAISON ANTIQUES will host its second annual trunk show of custom lamps and shades October 25th and 26th from 10:00 to 5:00. Robin and Scott Morris, owners of The Shade Above will be presenting 50 new creations.

The husband-and-wife team has been producing custom lamps for Belle Maison for the past six years. Their work has been seen in Architectural Digest, Southern Accents and Elle Décor, which described the lampshades as "couture level." The Morris' lamps are one-of-a-kind and the shades are hand sewn and feature intricate smocking and pleating techniques.

Customers will have the opportunity to purchase lamps or to have a lamp and/or shade custom-made. In-home appointments can also be arranged while Robin and Scott are in Lexington. Please call 859-252-9030 to schedule an appointment. ☺
